

Third Doric Aviation Day in Offenbach

Offenbach – On 15 May 2018, the third Doric Aviation Day took place at the Sparda-Bank-Hessen-Stadium in Offenbach. With over 150 guests, the event was once again well received.

Representatives from Boeing, Finnair, Mint Partners, Oriel and PriceWaterhouseCoopers contributed to a lively professional exchange. The participants included investors as well as representatives from airlines and banks from around the world.

The event highlighted the growing demand among European institutional investors for alternative investment opportunities with stable cash flow and attractive returns. At the same time, the growing demand for aircraft acquisitions and financing, especially in Asia, was underscored.

Doric GmbH hosted the event. Managing Director Sibylle Pähler was especially pleased that the third Aviation Day met with such a positive reception from its participants.

The Sparda-Bank-Hessen-Stadium again provided an appealing setting for the Doric Aviation Day, which ended with dinner and further conversation.
